Background

Section 46 of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 requires schools to follow a Code of Practice on managing their records. Under section 7 of the Code of Practice on the Management of Records, it states that:

"Authorities should have in place a records management policy, either as a separate policy or as part of a wider information or knowledge management policy."

This policy needs to:

- be endorsed by senior management, for example at board level, and should be readily available to staff at all levels.
- provide a mandate for the records and information management function and a framework for supporting standards, procedures and guidelines. The precise contents will depend on the particular needs and culture of the authority but it should as a minimum:
 - a) Set out the authority's commitment to create, keep and manage records which document its principal activities;
 - b) Outline the role of records management and its relationship to the authority's overall business strategy;
 - c) Identify and make appropriate connections to related policies, such as those dealing with email, information security and data protection;
 - d) Define roles and responsibilities, including the responsibility of individuals to document their work in the authority's records to the extent that, and in the way that, the authority has decided their work should be documented, and to use those records appropriately;
 - e) Indicate how compliance with the policy and the supporting standards, procedures and guidelines will be monitored.
- kept up-to-date so that it reflects the current needs of the authority, particularly given the rapidly changing technological environment and the embedding of the new data protection legislation. One way of ensuring this is to review it at agreed intervals, for example: annually; following an event which may require a review of practice (e.g. a subject access request); or after major organisational or technological changes, in order to assess whether it needs amendment.
- The authority should consider publishing the policy so that members of the public can see the basis on which it manages its records.

Having a records management policy will support the school in meeting its responsibilities under the Data Protection Act 2018 and the General Data Protection Regulation.

Records Management Policy

The School recognises that by efficiently managing its records, it will be able to comply with its legal and regulatory obligations and to contribute to the effective overall management of the institution. Records provide evidence for protecting the legal rights and interests of the school, and provide evidence for demonstrating performance and accountability.

This document provides the policy framework through which this effective management can be achieved and audited. It covers:

- Scope
- Responsibilities
- Relationships with existing policies

1. Scope of the policy

- 1.1 This policy applies to all records created, received or maintained by permanent and temporary staff of the school in the course of carrying out its functions. Also, by any agents, contractors, consultants or third parties acting on behalf of the school.
- 1.2 Records are defined as all those documents which facilitate the business carried out by the school and which are thereafter retained (for a set period) to provide evidence of its transactions or activities. These records may be created, received or maintained in hard copy or electronic format e.g. paper documents, scanned documents, e-mails which document business activities and decisions, audio and video recordings, text messages, notes of telephone and Skype conversations, spreadsheets, Word documents, presentations etc.

2. Responsibilities

- 2.1 The governing body of a school has a statutory responsibility to maintain the school records and record keeping systems in accordance with the regulatory environment specific to the school. The responsibility is usually delegated to the headteacher of the school.
- 2.2 The person responsible for day-to-day operational management in the school will give guidance on good records management practice and will promote compliance with this policy so that information will be retrieved easily, appropriately and in a timely way. They will also monitor compliance with this policy by surveying at least annually to check if records are stored securely and can be accessed appropriately.
- 2.3 The school will manage and document its records disposal process in line with the Records Retention Schedule. This will help to ensure that it can meet Freedom of Information requests and respond to requests to access personal data under data protection legislation (subject access requests "SARS").
- 2.4 Individual staff and employees must ensure, with respect to records for which they are responsible, that they:
 - 2.4.1 Manage the school's records consistently in accordance with the school's policies and procedures;

- 2.4.2 Properly document their actions and decisions;
- 2.4.3 Hold personal information securely;
- 2.4.4 Only share personal information appropriately and do not disclose it to any unauthorised third party;
- 2.4.5 Dispose of records securely in accordance with the school's Records Retention Schedule.

3. Relationship with existing policies

This policy has been drawn up within the context of:

- Freedom of Information Policy
- Data Protection Policy
- Information Governance Policy and with other legislation or regulations (including audit, equal opportunities and ethics) affecting the school.

Retention Guidelines for Schools

This document has been extracted from the Information and Records Management Society's Toolkit for Schools 2019.

Introduction

1. The purpose of the retention guidelines

Under the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and the Data Protection Act 2018 (DPA 2018) schools need a policy setting out retention periods for the personal data they hold. Also, under the Freedom of Information Act 2000, schools should maintain a Retention Schedule listing the series of records which the school creates or maintains in the course of its business.

The Retention Schedule lays down the length of time for which the record needs to be retained and the action which should be taken when it is of no further administrative or legal use. It also lays down the basis for normal processing under both Data Protection and Freedom of Information legislation.

Members of staff are expected to manage their current record keeping systems using the Retention Schedule and to take account of the different kinds of retention periods when they are creating new record keeping systems.

The Retention Schedule refers to series' of records regardless of the media (e.g. paper/electronic/microfilm/photographic etc.) in/on which they are stored.

2. Benefits of a Retention Schedule

There are a number of benefits which arise from the use of a complete Retention Schedule:

- Managing records against the Retention Schedule is deemed to be 'normal processing' under the Data Protection legislation and the Freedom of Information Act
- Members of staff can be confident about the safe disposal of information at the appropriate time
- Information which is subject to Freedom of Information and Data Protection legislation will be available when required
- The school is not maintaining and storing information unnecessarily.

Members of staff should be aware that once a Freedom of Information request is received, or a legal hold imposed, then records disposal relating to the request or legal hold must be stopped.

Records which may be required by IICSA should be treated as though they are subject to a legal hold.

3. Maintaining and amending the Retention Schedule

Where appropriate the Retention Schedule should be reviewed and amended to include any new record series created, and any obsolete record series removed.

This IRMS Retention Schedule contains recommended retention periods for the different record series created and maintained by schools in the course of their business. The schedule refers to all information regardless of the media in which it is stored.

Some of the retention periods are governed by statute, others are guidelines following best practice. Every effort has been made to ensure that these retention periods are compliant with the requirements of Data Protection and Freedom of Information legislation.

If record series are to be kept for longer or shorter periods than laid out in this document then the reason(s) for this need to be documented.

This schedule should be reviewed on a regular basis.

Where there is a recommendation to archive the information this may be in an electronic format. There is no need to convert the information into a hard copy. Such records should be kept in separate electronic folder suitably marked as holding archival material.

Disclaimer

This document is a guideline only and liability is the responsibility of the end user and not of the IRMS. Individual organisations should seek the appropriate legal advice and senior management approval.

These retention guidelines are free for use to schools. Questions will only be dealt with if they are submitted by IRMS members. Please complete the form on the webpage, remembering to include your IRMS membership number.

2.3.8	Sickness absence monitoring		Sickness records are categorised as sensitive data. There is a legal obligation under statutory sickness pay to keep records for sickness monitoring. Sickness records should be kept separate from accident records. It could be argued that where sickness pay is not paid then current year + 3 years is acceptable, whilst if sickness pay is made then it becomes a financial record and current year + 6 years applies. The actual retention may depend on the internal auditors. Most seem to accept current year + 3 years as being acceptable as this gives them, 'benefits' and Inland Revenue have time to investigate if they need to	SECURE DISPOSAL	Yes
2.3.9	Staff training – where the training leads to continuing professional development		Length of time required by the professional body	SECURE DISPOSAL	Yes
2.3.10	Staff training – except where dealing with children, e.g. first aid or health and safety		This should be retained on the personnel file [see 2.3.1 above]	SECURE DISPOSAL	Yes

Disciplinary and Grievance Processes

Where schools are in any doubt as to which categories disciplinary records fall under, then HR or legal advice should be sought from the Local Authority.

2.3.12	Records relating to any allegation of a child protection nature against a member of staff	“Keeping children safe in education Statutory guidance for schools and colleges September 2018”; “Working together to safeguard children. A guide to inter-agency working to safeguard and promote the welfare of children 2018”	Until the person’s normal retirement age or 10 years from the date of the allegation (whichever is the longer) then REVIEW. Note: allegations that are found to be malicious should be removed from personnel files. If found they are to be kept on the file and a copy provided to the person concerned UNLESS the member of staff is part of any case which falls under the terms of reference of IICSA. If this is the case then the file will need to be retained until IICSA enquiries are complete	SECURE DISPOSAL These records must be shredded	Yes
2.3.13	Disciplinary proceedings				Yes

Note:

The ACAS code of practice on disciplinary and grievance procedures recommends that the employee should be told how long a disciplinary warning will remain current. However, this does not mean that the data itself should be destroyed at the end of the set period.

Any disciplinary proceedings data will be a record of an important event in the course of the employer’s relationship with the employee. Should the same employee be accused of similar misconduct five years down the line, and they defend him- or herself by saying “I would never do something like that”, reference to the earlier proceedings may show that the comment should not be given credence. Alternatively, if the employee were to be dismissed for some later offence and then claim at tribunal that he or she had “fifteen years of unblemished service”, the record of the disciplinary proceedings would be effective evidence to counter this claim.

Employers should, therefore, be careful not to confuse the expiry of a warning for disciplinary purposes with a requirement to destroy all reference to its existence in the personnel file. One danger is that the disciplinary procedure itself often gives the impression that, at the end of the effective period for the warning, the warning will be "removed from the file". This or similar wording should be changed to make it clear that, while the warning will not remain active in relation to future disciplinary matters, a record of what has occurred will be kept.

	Oral warning		Date of warning + 6 months	SECURE DISPOSAL [If warnings are placed on personal files then they must be weeded from the file
	Written warning – level 1		Date of warning + 6 months
	Written warning – level 2		Date of warning + 12 months
	Final warning		Date of warning + 18 months
